THE BALNWELL JOURNAL. -- We are informed by Mr. Shuck, the proprietor of this lively weekly, that the publication office of the Journal has been moved back to Barnwell from Blackville, to which last place it was transferred only a few months ago.

THE CHARLESTON HIGH SCHOOL .- The Board of Supervisors of this institution met last evening and were organized by electing Mr. Richard Yea don to the chair, and Mr. W. R. Kingman secretary. Mr. Yeadon was the founder of the High School, and has been its constant friend-through the entire period of its existence.

A NEW APPOINTMENT .- We learn that A. J. Ransier, colored, the present county auditor, has been appointed deputy collector of the port, in the place of the former incumbent, Mr. Groves. As Ransier already rejoices in a plurality of offices, it is rumored that he will resign the minor places and devote his time to the new appoint-

THAT CHIEF MARSHALSHIP .- The "Chairman of the Committee of Arrangements" of the New Year Emancipation celebration writes us that Richard Pepper, (colored) and not Magistrate T. J. Mackey, was the chief marshal of the day. Magistrate Mackey officiated on the occasion referred to in his capacity of president of the Union League.

THE WIDOWS' HOME.-The friends of this charitable institution are requested to attend a meeting, to be held at the Home this evening. The ladies who form the Board of Control fee that it is due to the public that a statement of the progress and success of the work should be made, and that those persons who are interested in this benevolent enterprise should confer upon the best means to assure its continued prosperity.

* CONGRESSIONAL VISITORS .- The following gentlemen, members of Congress, are staying at the Charleston Hotel, and are the party referred to by our Washington correspondent, as intending to pay a visit to Charleston: Honorables J. A. Peters, W. E. Spencer, T. Smith, Wood C. Dawes and J. M. Barklay. They have come South on account of the Georgia question and other public matters.

A PLEASANT SURPRISE .- As the Rev. Lewis H. Shuck, Pestor of the First Baptist Church of this city, entered his study on last Sabbath, he was delighted to observe that it had been carpeted and comfortably furnished by the Ladies' Industrial Society connected with the church. This was a New Year greeting to their pastor, and as his comfort, and invoke God's blessing upon Masonic Election.-At a regular commu-5869, the following officers were elected to serve Kirkland, Jr., J. D.; Dr. L. S. Hay and H. Brab-M. Hoover, chaplain.

THE WIDOWS' HOME IN BROAD STREET .- The expected box of beautiful articles from Switzerland arrived yesterday, and notwithstanding the inclement weather, a number of the articles were sold almost before they could be properly classiand appraised. One generous gentleman, who visited the institution yesterday, left nearly $300 in return for articles which he purchased. The Home will be open this evening, to-morrow until 10. To-night the gentlemen who have kindly resolved upon organization for the benefit of Snow.-The murky skies of yesterday morning were sure signs to the weather-wise of snow, and these prophets for once were in the right. About 1 o'clock the flakes began to fall, and though at first the performance seemed to be an imposition on a confiding community, it soon increased in volume and violence, and for a few hours we had a tolerably well executed snow storm. The ground was barely covered, though in some sheltered spots the drifts were deep enough to furnish the material for snow balls. The sun asserted his supremacy at 5 o'clock, and the beautiful snew melted from the sight, leaving the streets and sidewalks in a deplorably muddy

A FLORAL GUIDE .- We have received from Mr. James Vick, of Rochester, New York, a copy of his Illustrated Catalogue and Floral Guide for 1870. This is the ninth annual catalogue issued by Mr. Vick, and it contains all the information required for selecting choice seeds, together with instructions as to the best manner of sowing and transplanting. The catalogue is handsomely illustrated, and we cordially recommend it to all growers of flowers, fruits and vegetables. The Catalogue and Guide is sent to all who desire it for ten cents; and we may add that Mr. Vick, whom we believe to be thoroughly trustworthy, will fill promptly any orders for seeds and plants that may be sent to him. Some idea of the extent of Mr. Vick's business is given by the fact that, in the busy season, he fills from one to two thousand orders a day. We print his advertisement

FIRE .- The alarm of fire was sounded about half-past 3 o'clock yesterday morning, and the engines were soon on the ground. The fire originated in a building on the east side of Anson street, above George, owned and occupied by Mr. J. H. Keip as a dwelling and grocery store. When aroused by the alarm, Mr. Keip found the store enveloped in flames, and was barely able to effect his escape from the burning building. The store was entirely destroyed, and the flames were communicated to the buildings on either side. That on the south was occupied by Mr. Schlobohm as a bakery, and was partially consumed, but the stock and furniture were saved. The building on the north was occupied by J. H. Howard, colored, and was slightly damaged by fire. Mr. Kelp had his building insured with Messrs. W. B. Heriot & Co. for $1000, and the stock with Messrs. Colburn & Hewell for $2500. The bakery was insured in Mr. A. L. Tobias' agencies for $2000. The weather was bitterly cold and the firemen labored under many disadvantages, but succeeded in confining the fire to the buildings where it originated. During the fire the steam chest of the Washington was exploded, but fortunately did no damage. The fire was nearly opposite St. Joseph's Church, which for some time was in considerable danger, but was saved through the untiring efforts of the Fire Department.

Engagement of Mr. Neil Warner, the English Tragedian.

It is a most question whether the subtle refinements of the creations of Shakespeare's genius may not be better understood by the student in his closet, than by him who only witnesses their counterfeit presentment as they fret their hour on the stage; but certain it is that every one of the eager hundreds who witnessed the performance of Hamlet at the Academy of Music last night, was richly repaid all his trouble, and went away into the winter streets with his every anticipation of pleasure far more than fulfilled. So many years had passed since the Prince of Denmark had trod the Charleston boards that the public were anxious to behold once more the tragedy which awed their youth or charmed their mature age. The graybeards, the city fathers, the men who remembered, faintly or vividly, Macready, Vandenhoff, and the elder Booth, were ready to watch and discuss the newly arrived tragedian. And, besides these, there were the younger props of the community, who knew just enough of the Muse to believe that their first beholding of a Shakespearian play would be an event in their lives. So the Academy of Music was crammed from floor to roof-tree. The aisles were filled; no room was left for late-corcers, who were willing to stand during the performance; hundreds of would-be spectators were turned away from the doors. In every particular the audience was the best that Charleston has given the drama this season; and the tragedy, nearly without exception, was worthy of the audience. Mr. Warner, on his first appearance, created :

most favorable impression. Of graceful and commanding presence, his lineaments bear a striking general resemblance to the portraits of John Wilkes Booth, which are familiar to most of our readers. His dress was the customary black velvet; but in no other respect did he tie himself to the traditions of the part. His delivery is clear and impressive, showing a rich fund of reserved power; and even in the most passionate out bursts, there was nothing of the rant in which tragedians of the Forrest school are wont to induige. The style in which the soliloquies were given was especially striking. While making the usual points, Mr. Warner contrived to give a new shade of meaning to many familiar passages; and his acting was marked throughout by finished style and evidences of deep thought. These were seized upon by the audience with evident pleasure, and the satisfaction with which his efforts were welcomed was almost too deep to find expression in manual or pedal applause.

The Polonius of Mr. Parker, like most of his personations, was an excellent piece of acting; and, next to Hamlet, was the decided triumph of the evening. Mr. Wood played Lacrtes with spirit and taste. We wish, we could say as much for Mr. Read, who was cast as the King, but who, we thought, was not particularly king-like either in his make-up or action. His voice, too, was somewhat marred by the clumsy addition of artificial moustaches. Altogether the King was the weakest point in a performance the general excellence of which it is a pleasure to commend. Miss Eldridge, as Ophelia, acted and sang charmingly. The power and versatility which this young lady already displays in parts so widely different auger favorably for her future dramatic career. Miss Alexander, as the player-Oucen. acquitted herself well, as she always does. Mrs. Eldridge performed the part of the guilty Queen with a spirit that we had hardly expected from the "old lady" of the comedies. The scenic arrangements and costumes were excellent, and the play passed off with a smoothness and eclat that were as gratifying to the audience as they were creditable to the management. Richelieu for To-Night. To-night Mr. Warner will appear for the first and only time in Bulwer's splendid tragedy of Richelieu. The administration of the great Cardinal, whom (despite all his darker qualities) Voltaire and history justly consider the true architect of the French monarchy, and the great parent of French civilization, is characterized by ter S. C.; Mrs. L. Chamberlain, N. Y.; Mrs. M. features alike tragic and comic. A weak kinghe engages in his daily studies, he will doubtless an ambitious favorite; a despicable conspiracy often think of the fair hands that ministered to against the minister, nearly always associated with a dangerous treason against the Statethese, with little variety of names and dates, constitute the eventful cycle through which, with a dazzling ease, and an arrogant confidence, the | well. nication of Buford Lodge, No. 27, A. F. M., held at great juminary fulfilled its destinies. Bient Buford's Bridge, S. C., December 11th, 1869, A. L./ together, in startling contrast, we see the grandest achievements and the pettiest agents-the for the ensuing Masonic year: LeRoy Wilson, W spy-the mistress-the capuchin-the destruction and two children, Boston; J. G. Ross, Portland; M.; Jones M. Williams, S. W.; Dr. N. F. Kirk- of feudalism-the humiliation of Austria-the disland, J. W.; J. M. Kirkland, treasurer; Dr. J. M./ memberment of Spain. Richelieu himself is still bia; M. M. Mott, New York; P. Whipple, Darling-Weekley, secretary; R. S. Barker, S. D.; J. C. what he was in his own day-a man of two charton; P. Hall, Florida; R. Hawkins and wife, New acters. If, on the one hand, he is justly repreham, stewards; E. W. Billing, tyler; Rev. John sented as inflexible and vindictive, crafty and unscrupulous, so, on the other, it cannot be denied that he was placed in times in which the long impunity of every license required stern examples-that he was beset by perils and intrigues, which gave a certain excuse to the subtlest inventions of self-defence-that his ambition was inseparably connected with a passionate love for the glory of his country-and that, if he was her dictator, he was no less her benefactor. He was no less generous to merit than severe to crimein the various departments of the State, the army evening, and Thursday evening, from 4 o'clock and the church, he selected and distinguished the ablest aspirants-the wars which he conduct ed were, for the most part, essential to the presthe Home will meet in one of the rooms of the in- ervation of France, and Europe itself, from the formidable encroachments of the Austrian House -and he left the kingdom he had governed in a more flourishing and vigorous state than at any former period of the French history, or at the decease of Louis XIV. The cabals formed against the great statesman were not carried on by the patriotism of public virtue, nor the emulation of equal talent; they were but court struggles, in which the most worthless agents had recourse to the most desperate means. In each, we see combined the twofold attempt to murder the minister, and to betray the country. Such, then, are the agents, and such the designs, with which truth, in the drama, as in history, requires us to contrast the celebrated Cardinal; not disguising his foibles, but not unjust to the grander qualities (especially the love of country) by which they were often dignifled, and, at times, redeemed. WEEK OF PRAYER .- Divine services may be expected, Providence permitting, every night during this week in the following churches, commencing at 7 o'clock:

Tuesday night-Lecture room of the Glebe Street Church. Wednesday night-St. John's Lutheran Church,

Archdale street.

Thursday night-Second Presbyterian, Dr.

Friday night-Trinity Church.

Sunday night-St. Luke's, Rev. Mr. Gadsden's. Every afternoon at half-past 3 o'clock, at the lecture room of the Circular Church.

The Christian community, and especially ministers of the Gospel, are invited to attend and unite with the people of God throughout the world in observing this week of prayer. UNITED STATES COURT .- HON. GEORGE S. BRYAN, PRESIDING-MONDAY, JANUARY 3 .- The District Court was convened this morning. A sufficient number of jurymen not answering to their names, a new tales venire was ordered to be made out, and the grand and petit jurors will be organized to-day. In Bankruptcy.-Ex parte Thomas Davis, in re

Robert C. Mills. Assignee ordered to give bonds under the 13th section of the Bankrupt act. Ex parte B. N. Miller, of Edgefield. Petition for final discharge. Referred to Registrar Carpenter.

Certificates of discharge were issued to the following persons: W. S. Hudson, John C. Heriot and James McD. Law, all of Sumter. Ex parte Charles Meyer. Petition for citizen ship. Granted.

The docket of the District Court embraces thirteen cases, which have been continued from the teen cases, which have been continued from the preceding term. The District Attoracy gave notice that he would be ready to proceed to-day in the case of the United States vs. Dr. A. G. Mackey, T. G. Mackey, A. M. Mackey, William Elliott, John Pavis, James W. Whipple and Augustus Bollinger, charged with assault on Castomhouse officers while in discha 'e of their duty. Hon. Henry Bulst appeared for the defence, and stated that his clients would be ready to answer this morning at 10 A. M. when the court is opened.

THE LICENSE BILL. -The special meeting of Council called last night resulted in naught, as most of the colored members were members of different societies that met the same evening, and it was found impossible to obtain a quorum. The License bill was subjected to a close scrutiny at the cancus meeting, and was pruned of many of the more objectionable features. As amended, it was expected to pass the bill through to its final reading, and make it operative as soon as possible. This has been Trustrated by the failure of the two last special meetings, but it will be pressed at an carly day. Among the amendments proposed that which affected the brokers is important. An auctioneer's license has been reduced to $50; a broker' is fixed at the same amount, but brokers in money and real estate, and dealers in exchange, bankers and bank agents, all remain at $100. As these branches are all combined in the general brokerage business, the grievances complained of by that class have been but slightly modified. As an offset to the reductions made in the brokers' and auctioneers licenses, the banks will be required to pay $800, instead of $100, the original figure. Doctors and lawyers will have to pay a license of $25. Mechanics will be exempt, but if the bos ses should, as is not unlikely, happen to be mechanics also, they will have to pay according to the number of their employees. Those employing from one to four journeymen, will be charged $10 for the privilege, and those that employ a larger number will be compelled to pay $25. The bill assumes that none but master mechanics would employ mechanics, and the term mechanic refers to every trade, including barbers.

Council will undoubtedly pass a license bill, one of some description, calculated to raise as large an amount as possible. They say the treasury is bare and must be replenished speedily, and the new bill will be the most effective collecting agent they can obtain.

BUSINESS ENVELOPES .- THE NEWS Job Office is now prepared to furnish good envelopes, with business cards printed thereon, at $4 per thousand. Send your orders. Every merchant and business man should have his card printed on his envelopes.

CRUMBS .- The latest speculation affoat is the attempt of certain persons to buy up the Greenville and Columbia Railroad stock at $2 a share. Before they sell at this figure the stockholders had better look around them. A word to the wise is sufficient !

It is stated by those persons who were early risers yesterday morning that the aurora berealis or Northern lights were very brilliant in the northeast horizon, and were thought to be the reflection of another fire. The resumption of duties in the St. Philip street school was celebrated yesterday by a collation given to the lady teachers. Two colored men had an altercation in State street last evening, and one of them drew a knife, but was interrupted by the police who gave chase and captured the offender on Brown's wharf after a long chase. A drunken man who was before the Mayor yes terday morning plead first offence, but was fined for taking the captain's name in vain. The steepleman who was discharged for sounding the wrong signal, has been reinstated in his

When you are exhausted by overwork of head or hand, and feel the need of something invigorating, don't drink whiskey or any intoxicating thing, whether under the name of Bitters or otherwise. Such articles give just as much strength to your weary body and mind as the whip gives to the jaded horse, and no more. Alcoholic stimulants are injurious to nerve health, and are always followed by depressing reaction.

YOU TAKE.

DODD'S NERVINE AND INVIGORATOR

Is a Tonic and gentle stimulant, which is not attended by reaction. What it gains for you it maintains. When it refreshes body or mind, it refreshes with natural strength that comes to stay. We are not recommending teetotalism in stay. We are not recommending testotalism in the interest of any faction; but long and extended observation teaches us that he who resorts to the bottle for rest or recuperation, will find, as he keeps at it, that he is kindling a fire in his bones which will consume like the fiames of perdition. Turn from it. Take a tonic that will refresh and not destroy. DODD'S NERVINE is for sale by all Departies. Price One dollar. See book of certification.
